To whom it may concern:

Brendan Prout has worked here at Horizon for the past three years. I have personally known Brendan for six years. Brendan and I met initially while we were both working on our Masters at Azusa Pacific University.

Brendan's has a gregarious personality and this rubs off on his students. His classroom environment includes lots of laughter and real life experiences to heighten the educational experience for his students.

During a spring evaluation this year, I was able to see him teach students about investments and I witnessed the enjoyment on the student's faces while watching the fluctuation of their stocks.

Brendan constantly helped with outside activities with our students including our annual "Senior Trip." In his time here at Horizon he really grew as a teacher. I will definitely miss him and his family.

In His Service,

Chris Johnson
High School Vice Principal
